

Contents

List of Tables and Maps / vii

Preface / ix

1. Introduction / 1

Vivienne Bennett

Part One: Understanding Water and Gender / 11

2. The Connection between Gender and Water Management / 13

Margreet Zwarteveen and Vivienne Bennett

3. Global Water and Gender Policies: Latin American Challenges / 30

Sonia Dávila-Poblete and María Nieves Rico

Part Two: Neoliberal Policies and Their Social Impact / 51

4. Gender Dimensions of Neoliberal Water Policy in Mexico and Bolivia: Empowering or Disempowering? / 53

Rhodante Ahlers

5. Women in the “Water War” in the Cochabamba Valleys / 72

Rocío Bustamente, Elizabeth Peredo, and María Esther Udaeta

6. To Make Waves: Water and Privatization in Tucumán, Argentina / 91

Norma Giarracca and Norma Del Pozo

Part Three: Technology Transfer and Social Organization / 107

7. Irrigation Management, the Participatory Approach, and Equity in an Andean Community / 109

Juana Rosa Vera Delgado

8. Water as a Source of Equity and Empowerment in Costa Rica / 123

Lorena Aguilar

Part Four: Participation and Cultural Change / 135

9. Women, Equity, and Household Water Management in the Valley of Mexico / 137

Michael C. Ennis-McMillan

10. Women and Water in the Northern Ecuadorean Andes / 154

Elena P. Bastidas

11. Women at the Helm of Irrigated Agriculture in Mexico:
The Other Side of Male Migration / 170

Stephanie Buechler

12. Toward a Broader Perspective / 190

Vivienne Bennett, Sonia Dávila-Poblete, and

María Nieves Rico

Notes / 209

Bibliography / 219

List of Contributors / 239

Index / 243