

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction. Literacy, Race, and an American Ethos	1
Part 1. Asian American Language and Literacy Rights in the 1970s
Chapter 1. Language and Racial Injury in Lau v. Nichols	27
Chapter 2. Gidra and the Extracurriculum of Asian American Publications	56
Part 2. Asian American Rhetorics against Racial Injury in the 2000s
Chapter 3. Campus Racial Politics and a “Rhetoric of Injury”	79
Chapter 4. Asian American Rhetorical Memory, a “Memory That Is Only Sometimes Our Own”	112
Chapter 5. “I WANT A THICKER ACCENT”: Revisionary Public Texts	131
Afterword. Writing against Racial Injury, Writing to Remember	159
Works Cited	165
Index	175