

Contents

Preface

xi

Acknowledgments

xvii

Note on Transliteration and Spelling of Personal and Geographical Names

xix

Introduction:

An Anthropology of Knowledge and Life “in the Field”

3

Chapter 1.

Learning Everyday (Islam)

20

Chapter 2.

“Muslim by Birth, Atheist by Belief”: The Social Organization of Knowledge

52

Chapter 3.

“Our Ancestors Also Live Here”: The Corpus of Knowledge

79

Chapter 4.

“Listen and Watch”: The Medium of Knowledge

105

Chapter 5.
Framing Politics, Morality, and a Practice of Understanding 135
Conclusion:
Social Navigation as Knowing Enacted/in Action
	155
Appendix A.
Overview of Interlocutors
	171
Appendix B.
Methodology and Description of the Field
	176
Notes
	181
Bibliography
	197
Index
	217